MRS. SKEELS RESUMES HER STORY

(By Associated Press)
Lawrence, Mass., June 25.—Mrs. Bessie M. (Skeels) Lundgren a nurse who is on trial for murder because of the death by poisoning of Miss Florence W. Gay, resumed her story from the witness stand today. The little woman, emaciated by a recent illness, was carried to her place by court attendants. Nurse Skeels continued the recital which she began yesterday of the circumstances connected with the illness and death of Miss Gay in December, 1917. She testified that she had sought relief from her duties in the Gay home several days before Miss Gay died. It was at the request of Mrs. Edith M. Luce, a relative of the Gays, that she stayed on, she said. Nurse Skeels asserted that she gave Miss Gay no medical attendance of any kind for two days before her death. On the date that Miss Gay died she said, she was called into her room by Mrs. Luce and found the patient unconscious.

Friday at Two P. M. Germany Will Take Her Medicine--Italy Will Have New Delegation--Austrian Terms Still Incomplete--Nation Wide Bomb Plot Did Not Materialize

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR FREEDOM OF IRELAND

(By Associated Press)
New York, June 25.—The activities of the Irish in their campaign for independence will not be confined to the United States but will be extended to Canada and Australia, Emma de Valera, "President of the Irish Republic" announced here today. "We have sympathizers just as strong in Australia and Canada as we have here in the United States and we will float a portion of our loan in those two countries," he said.

One of the public utilities at Lake, N. Y., is a shovel which is kept at a certain muddy crosswalk for the convenience of the pedestrians.

(By Associated Press)
Berlin, Tuesday, June 24.—Long accounts written for the Berlin papers by correspondents at Weimar tell of events preceding the decision of the German government to sign the Treaty of Peace, and show that there was a threat by generals and officers of the volunteer troops to quit if the treaty was signed without reservations. G. Noske, Minister of Defense, proffered his resignation but later succeeded in appeasing the officers. He then withdrew his resignation under pressure from his party and cabinet ministers. Feeling among military leaders is still running high notwithstanding the fact that there are admonishing the troops to continue in the service.

Paris, June 25.—The Treaty of Peace will be signed either Friday or Saturday it is believed although the date has not been definitely fixed. It has been decided that the hour for the ceremony will be at two o'clock p. m. The Peace Conference Secretariat is still without official knowledge of the personnel of the new German Peace Delegation and does not know when it will arrive at Versailles. This lack of official advices from Germany with regard to the new plenipotentiaries has caused some uneasiness in Conference circles and the plans for the signing of the treaty are in a complete state of suspense.

It is expected that the new Italian delegation headed by Signor Tittoni, the new Foreign Minister, will arrive in Paris on Friday to resume the negotiations of Italy relative to the Peace Treaty with Austria. There are still several important matters to be adjusted before the remainder of the Austrian Treaty can be presented to the Austrian delegates. France and presumably the other allies, and associated nations are prepared for eventualities should the Germans fail to carry out the provisions of the treaty. Premier Clemenceau in replying to questions of members of the Chamber of Deputies relative to demobilization, said yesterday, that precautions were necessary "in view of the state of the Germans," the Premier pointing out that the destruction of German ships in Scapa Flow and at Kiel showed the "spirit in which the Germans will sign the treaty." Formal approval has been given by the Supreme Council of the Conference to the plan of giving Belgium priority in reparations to the extent of about five hundred million dollars.

Here Von Hainhausen, the acting German representative at Versailles, apparently is also without information.

KING SAID TO BE BROKE

(By Associated Press)
Paris, June 25.—Former King Constantine of Greece who has been living in Switzerland, is in financial difficulties according to advices from Geneva to Paris newspapers. Former Emperor William has been supplying the former King of Greece with funds but this subsidy has been cut off. It is added that Constantine is endeavoring to become reconciled with the present Greek government. Former King Constantine has been in financial straits for some time. It was reported almost a year ago that he was financially embarrassed and was counting upon the marriage of his brother Prince Christopher to a wealthy American woman to aid him in financing the campaign for regaining his throne. While King of Greece Constantine received $400,000 yearly.

GERMANY MUST HURRY OR FIGHT

(By Associated Press)
Paris, June 25.—If the heads of the allied powers in Paris do not hear from Weimar very soon regarding the signing of the Peace Treaty an ultimatum will be sent to the German government, according to the Paris Reuters Ltd. The ultimatum will demand the appointment of twenty plenipotentiaries within a certain number of hours.

Police precautions were taken to avoid threatened violence. Army trucks supplying government institutions were guarded by soldiers and marines and were allowed to pass picket lines unmolested.

BOSTON POLICE ALL CALLED OUT

(By Associated Press)
Boston, June 25.—Every patrolman in the police department in this city was on duty or on call today the result of a special mobilization. No official explanation of the unusual gathering of police was advanced but it was said at headquarters that reports were current of a possible radical demonstration and parade permits for which had been refused. ## CAR FAILS TO MAKE HILL AND CRASHED AGAINST A POLE

Passengers Shaken Up and Frightened at Atlantic Heights.

The failure of the brakes or some other part of the running gear of one of the buses running to Atlantic Heights gave ten or a dozen passengers a fright and shaking up on Tuesday evening. Two persons were slightly injured in collision.

Wirthmor and Welworth Waists

—After a very careful investigation we have arranged to distribute these two nationally-known and nationally favored lines of Waists in this city. Before deciding on this step we learned the Wirthmor and Welworth Waists were being handled by many of the best stores in America; that they had attained through their unvarying excellence a nation-wide popularity; that because of the unique Wirthmor Plan under which they are made and sold that they always represented the highest possible standard of value in popular price Blouses, and further because of this very unusual method of making and selling Waists we would be able to show the new and wanted styles first, in many instances long in advance of their appearance in the market generally.

These are America's only known priced Waists, and they are sold at the same low prices the nation over.

Even the new Premier, Herr Bauer continues to express indignation at the price that Germany has to pay for the war. Washington, June 25.—Agreement was reached Tuesday by senate and house conferees on legislation to repeal government control of telegraph, telephone and other wire systems. The conferees adopted the house plan of terminating government control at midnight on the last day of the calendar month in which the law is approved.

Toll and local exchange telephone rates would be continued four months unless sooner changes by state commissions, under the conference commission, a compromise between the 90 days rate extension clause of the senate bill and the six months' continuance proposed by the house.

The practical effect of the legislation, the conferees stated, will be that all of the wires will be returned to private control and operation at midnight July 31, as it is expected confidently that the law will be signed by the president early in July.

The senate conferees yielded on the Senate plan of returning the wire lines "forthwith" they stated that enactment of the legislation this month was practically impossible and the House plan was accepted to avoid confusion in accounting should the wires be turned back in the middle of a month.

Action of the conference report will be had in the House and prompt ratification of the conference agreement is anticipated in both bodies of Congress, the time for ending government control and the telephone rate extension questions being the only subjects in dispute.

Games This Week.
Wednesday--K. of C. vs. Southerly.
Thursday--Navy Yard vs. Atlantic.

The Navy Yard took a full out of the P. A. C. in the Sunset league on Tuesday evening winning the game by a score of 5 to 2. It was an interesting game despite the fact that it was a trifle loose in spots, but it was also well played in some instances. Cannon made a great one-hand pick up of a drive by Charlie Brackett which was clearly the gem of the game.

Weare pitched for the Navy Yard team and after the first he had the game well in hand at all times. Bill Leary made three hits in three times to the bat and stole four bases so that he contributed his share of the game in addition to playing the first sack in the shape. Doll pitched for the 125-Champions and he was hit hard, especially in the fourth.

The P. A. C. were up and started well after Howard had hit to C. Broderick, G. Leary singled and Bill followed suit, George going to third, Bill stole second; Harrington filed to Cannon Jordan hit to S. Broderick who let it get thru him and the Learys scored. Doll fanned. Two runs.

The Navy Yard immediately tied the score; Cannon was passed, S. Broderick singled; Hayes singled, scoring Cannon; Crowell hit to Brackett who caught S. Broderick at the plate. Hayes going to third on the play and the score when Irvine was thrown out by Howard; C. Broderick filed to Harrington. Two runs.

In the second the P. A. C. got two men to but were unable to score; after Lynskey was thrown out by S. Broderick, Brackett walked and went to third on Bill Woods' single but Howard rolled one to Weare and G. Leary fanned.

Pegg drew a pass but was forced at second on Mastan's hit to Doll; Weare was thrown out by Doll and Cannon filed to Brackett.

In the fourth Bill Leary singled and got around to third by stealing two bases, but Harrington fanned, Jordan filed to Mastan and Doll to Crowell.

The Navy Yard took the lead; S. Broderick singled and stole second; Hayes was safe on Harrington's fumble; Crowell singled advancing S. Broderick who was thrown out at the plate for the second time by Brackett on Irvine's ground ball; C. Brackett singled and Hayes scored; Pegg fanned and Mastan hit to Howard who forced C. Broderick at second. One run.

Fourth inning: the P. A. C. were out

In order: Lynskey was thrown out by C. Broderick; Brackett hit over third and Cannon made a pretty one-hand stop and threw him out at first; Woods' filed to Irvine.

The Navy Yard scored two runs in their half; after Weare had rolled one to Doll, Cannon singled and advanced on S. Broderick's out, Brackett to W. Leary, went to third on a bad throw by Doll and scored on Hayes' single; Crowell hit for two bases scoring Hayes and Irvine struck out. Two runs.

The P. A. C. in the last inning made a good try but a sharp double spoiled the rally; Howard singled but was forced at second on G. Leary's hit to Cannon and Leary was doubled; Bill Leary singled but Harrington filed to S. Broderick.

CLASS PROPHECY AND LIMERICKS

The class prophecy and limericks of the senior class of the Portsmouth High School are here given:
THE PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF 1919.

Graduation was fast approaching and, very naturally, I was wondering what different circumstances my classmates would be found in, ten years hence. It was a very warm day and, while walking, I came upon a refreshing little stream, shaded by a Junco pine. Unable to resist the temptation of this cool spot, I sat down against the old tree. As I gazed off at the blue, blue sky and wondered on, my unspoken query was answered. I looked up, amazed at hearing a voice because I was sure I was alone. Much to my surprise, I saw a little bird who looked at me wisely and told me he would answer my questions. Thus I learned the fates of my classmates--you may not believe me--all that I can say is--"A little bird told me."

These prophecies were told to me so vividly and in such a realistic manner that I will retell them as the pictures came to my mind.

I could almost hear the shouts of laughter as I imagined a huge crowd of people. I looked to the stage and saw "Scop" Denison doing a vaudeville sketch with a pretty blonde. "As I told," I murmured.

Next I saw behind the scenes of a huge "movie" studio. I perceived that Thelma Wentworth managed her gym company, and this was her studio. In an inner room, wonderfully and luxuriously furnished, I saw Thelma herself talking to her director, Howard Gray. Ralph Cox had applied for position of hero in her new production and he was the subject of discussion. The bright glare of the great lights was so severe in the work-studio, that I looked around to see who was electrician. There was Stanley Hatcher, as giddy as ever.

I then heard shouts and cheers. A ball game I immediately surmised. Sure enough, it was the last of the tenth and the score 5 to 0 in favor of the Red Sox. I wondered at the cause of the wild cheers and then I saw "Hammer" McWilliams just adding home. I learned that the Red Sox always won now, and, naturally, wondered why. Oh, of course, Phil Hayes was the manager.

I could just picture to myself a train. As I looked thru the porter car I saw a very smartly dressed young woman reading a magazine. She was no other than Florence Stott. She now owned a very exclusive shop for women's gowns. Her calling secondarily, perhaps, I recalled her wonderfully good taste in dressing. In our school days, she turned around to speak to her companion who, I saw, was Vivian Goldsmith, now a well-known concert pianist who was then on her way to play at the Boston Opera House the next afternoon. As Florence turned to her magazine again, I saw that she was reading "The Manhattan" by Louise Butler. From the synopsis I could see that Louise had become famous by her stories on the same subject. "How time does change, one," I thought. The back of the magazine was adorned with a large advertisement which caught my eye. "Learn Home Gardening by Mail" Free, written by Mildred Sanderson, the famous landscape gardener.

The next scene was in the United States Senate. Hazel Manning and Roscoe Foster were opposing each other in an argument over an amendment providing free music lessons on the streets, to the natives of Porto Rico. To help him Roscoe had a little look in his hand entitled--"A Forceful Personality--How to Convince Your Listener." By Alvin Dares.

Next I saw a large and wonderfully kept farm owned by Elizabeth Odell. Preparations were being made in the kitchen for a party of some sort. Soon a large bus drove around the spacious drive and out jumped about fifty orphans, ready for a regular good old time. They were well managed by their beloved guardian, Vera Mikell. A very dignified minister kept the orphans in order, (also in awe) and I recognized Clarence Shuttlesworth.

I heard cries of agony and, as I expected, saw a very business-like looking dentist's office. I was wondering who the victim might be when I saw that "Henrie" Little with a pleasant countenance was contentedly and joyfully applying the bitzer to "Jimmie" Sylvester's mouth. Finally, after "Henrie" had come through the ordeal alive, he descended to his luxurious limousine. I perceived that "Henrie" was a very successful business man. As he tearfully directed his chauffeur, I noticed that it was from Schurman who looked very smart in his trim uniform.

Next I saw a ward in a children's hospital. The little ones had contented smiles on their faces as they followed their nurse lovingly. No wonder, for she was surely, Jessie Schurman. I easily perceived that her sweet disposition, which we knew so well in school, has not altered. I saw the children's faces suddenly light up as a brisk and businesslike doctor came in with a smile and joke for each child. Could I believe it? Yes, it was Manning Simpson--how this had grown!

I then saw a newspaper office. Here I recognized many old classmates. Elizabeth O'Leary, Alice Fernald, and Mildred Sanderson were in the office busily typewriting and more busily talking. There in rushed Marie Schurman with a big scoop--she was, I learned, the highest paid reporter on the staff.

A school evidently for young ladies. It was run by Anna Conner and Mary Conner. Groups of young ladies were standing about conversing in French. It seemed evident, as they listened to French class, that they liked this study very much. Much to my surprise, I learned the cause. John Leary was their instructor. I then realized why they talked so fluently. I saw one of the Advanced Mathematics Classes also, glancing over the books on the teachers' desk, one especially caught my eye. It was "An Explanation of the Fifth Dimension" by Professor Arthur Black. It seemed that by strange fate some of my school mates were linked together. In a short time the girls went to the gymnasium where they were ably instructed by our old friend, Ed O'Leary. Contrary to custom the girls loved gym and tried hard to copy Ed's physical accomplishments which they so greatly admired.

The next scene was the tea-room of a large well known hotel. I was lucky. It seemed, to have such a change to see the famous society dancers, Marjorie Mitchell and Stanley Hayes. Evidently the Castles were long forgotten. As they went out after the eleventh course, I saw the owner of the hotel go to meet them. He was overjoyed at the success of his new attraction. I could hardly believe my eyes when I saw he was John Thompson. He was very prosperous looking and had grown quite stout.

The next scene was in good old Portsmouth--at the circus grounds. Looking inside the tent I was greatly surprised to see that Tom Loughlin was the ring-master. He looked very impressive with his long white whiskers cracked at intervals, his tall black hat, and long black moustache. In the side show, a noisy rickety orchestra was playing the latest hit, "The Aeroplano Blues" by Beatrice Outten--sung by Earl Page.

The opening of a huge submarine tunnel extending from Boston to Liverpool. Conrad Vosselhoff, the civil engineer who accomplished this feat, was making an address to a huge throng. At the end of his speech, he went up to shake hands with the inventor who had made this work possible. He was then talking to someone but he was turned, I recognized our former class president, Henry Margeson.

The next scene was also a large audience who listened intently to an interesting speaker. It was Herbert Venton who was touring the country speaking in behalf of the National Prohibition of Playing Cards. As he sat down amidst great applause the orchestra began to play. It was a famous Ladies' Orchestra led by Lena Cohen.

The next scene was a very charming one--that of the campus in a girl's college. I saw two old classmates walking through a shady path. They were Bernice Merrill and Dorothy Rundlett. Bernice had now attained the high position of Dean and Dorothy was an English teacher. As Dorothy stopped to speak to a group of girls, I could see that they all adored her. They began to tell her about an entertainment they had seen the night before--the famous Zyltha Woods in her wonderful interpretative dances of nature.

The kindergarten class of the Cabot School, now a fine brick building. Lillian Snow was teaching the children to make little colored-paper chains. The children behaved beautifully--no wonder, for Lillian was so sweet to them. As the closing bell rang they were taken to Assembly Hall at the High School where the famous dramatist, Lucile Healy, was generously giving some of her valuable time to drill them for an entertainment.

Two young people were going into a large jewelry store. Shoberg and Suzanne, the brass sign said. I could see that the goods were of a very fine grade. From the wishes of the two people I perceived that they came to purchase an engagement ring. I heard a giggle. Enough--unmistakably the girl was Blanche Pettigrew. She was, alas, about to start in upon the state of married bliss.

A large garage--in charge of Martha DeCuney, who was, indeed very efficient in the position of general sideman. This garage specialized in a car produced by the Noel Automobile Co. It far outvalued the Ford and was advertised with a mileage of forty-two miles to a gallon. Martha's light hand man was the able mechanic, Patrick Murphy.

Next I saw a distracted housewife rush into an employment office. She came out, however, with a happy smile. "Times have certainly changed!" I thought. Looking inside I saw that the office was run by Grace Buckmaster who was ably assisted by Katherine Cullane and Gladys Joy. By the way, the lady whom they made so glad was Evelyn Brown, who now had a charming home of her own.

A large farm, where, I could easily see, the kennels were the important feature. It was owned by Florence Johnson and Phyllis Somerville. They were now walking toward the kennels, arm in arm, and stopped to converse with their assistant. He was, indeed, the famous dog raiser, George Ham, who specialized in collies.

A drug store owned by the young pharmacists, Marie Watkins and Clara Deacock. They made up their own prescriptions and were evidently enjoying great success. I remembered the splendid foundation for their knowledge of chemistry, which they received in P. H. S. Dorothy Pennell, who had just published her book, "Improved English Composition," came in. She asked Mae Marshall for a box of Hoken Colman's home made candles. But Mae explained that it was impossible to keep them on hand.

Blanche Hall keeps a Beauty Parlor where she sells Hair Restorer made by herself. She willingly tells each customer that she uses this for her own hair. No wonder it is such a success. As I look into an inner room I see her shampooer, Kathleen Ballan, and her manicurist, Mary Quinn, busily at work.

I see a director's meeting of a Social Service League. Catherine Doughton, the President is just outlining the plan for a new Community House. Agnes Woodward, their cheerful secretary, has just extracted a check sufficiently large for this building from one of the millionaires of the city.

The last scene was a very odd one--Mary Jackson had founded an English Reform School at the North Pole. Lucille Davidson was their instructor in manners. The idea seemed very unusual until I learned that they were following Margaret Goodwin's Daylight Saving System. You see their six months of daylight at the North Pole. It seemed so absolutely weird, that I wondered how Mary and Lucille could possibly endure the extreme cold. I found myself shivering violently and looked around to see that the men was just shivering behind the thick woods. My little bird had flown away and I wondered--had I dreamed it all?

The price of coal is 75 per cent determined by wages. The wage agreement at the mines continues until April 1, 1920. The Fuel Administration reports that 35 per cent of the mines cannot make any money at the present mine prices. In view of this, how can coal be cheaper this year?

Political Insincerity.

A New York paper is of the opinion that many congressmen and legislators voted to ratify the prohibition amendment while not believing in prohibition, and that many are now supporting woman's suffrage in the same insincere manner. The paper says it would be pleasant to believe that all of these men are guided by honest conviction, but finds it difficult to do this. It adds: "When a measure like prohibition or woman's suffrage gets under way and is evidently winning, the average politician is inclined to jump on the band wagon and be ready to acclaim himself as a staunch adherent of a cause, whether it be right or wrong in principle."

Without doubt this is a correct view. There is every reason to believe that many law makers choose the line of least resistance when important questions are to be acted upon, and that many vote against their convictions for the sake of being on what they deem to be the popular side.

This is, perhaps, a weakness of human nature and to be accepted as such, but it is not a manly course, nevertheless. It is the duty of a legislator, whether in Congress or a City Council, to acquaint himself with all the facts concerning any question on which he is called to act, and then to act in accordance with his convictions, however unpopular they may be. Any other course is the course of cowardice and self-seeking, resulting in many instances in loading the statute and ordinance books with most undesirable laws and regulations which are neither respected nor obeyed.

But this shortcoming is not confined entirely to men in public station. It is altogether too common in the rank and file of our citizenship. As this paper has before pointed out, there are many men who will sign petitions to the mayor of a city for this, that and the other thing in order to please the petitioners and the friends of the movement, and then quietly request that their signatures be disregarded. This is one of the cheapest and most cowardly things a man can do, but many men have been known to do it who would ordinarily be considered above any such underhand business.

As long as such a despicable spirit and such conduct are to be found in the ranks it will be in vain to look for unalloyed sincerity on the part of all who are elevated to high positions in public life. "The stream cannot rise higher than its source."

To withstand popular clamor for the sake of one's principles is many times a very unpleasant thing to do, but that is what public officials should do, and private citizens as well. If all would do that, real public sentiment would be known and results in the long run would be better than they are now.

Honesty is said to be the best policy, but it is to be feared that in the political world it is not always so regarded. Common observation teaches that there is altogether too much dodging and trimming on the part of those who have the shaping of public affairs, and for whose presence in office the public is responsible.

We hear much about taking this thing and that thing "out of politics," but what really needs to be taken out of politics is the insincerity that leads to mounting the band wagon for the sake of being on the popular side, regardless of one's honest convictions.

These are the days when the man who feels that he has done something for the world and doesn't get a degree is liable to be somewhat lonesome as he reads how the colleges and universities are "slinging" honors right and left. But there are other commendations coming and there is nothing to do but to keep right on "plugging" and hope for the best.

The graduation of a high school class is always an interesting affair. It is proper that parents, relatives and friends should "stand by" when a class of boys and girls—perhaps we should say young men and young women—is launched to sail out into the world of practical affairs.

The humble canoe still continues to score, but the achievements of the automobile and the airplane in running up casually lists are so much greater that the little craft and its dangers attract less attention than they otherwise would.

A school of whales after disporting themselves off the New England coast a few days ago, "spouted and disappeared," according to a published account. Perhaps that is what the German peace delegation is preparing to do.

The compulsory voting bill has been wisely turned down by the Massachusetts Senate. No government ever was or ever will be improved by the vote of any man who is compelled to vote.

The daylight-saving law goes by the board at the end of its present season, October 26. It looks as if the voice of the farmers of the country had been heard for once.

Somebody in Boston has been raising $1 and $2 bills to the denomination of $10. He evidently felt that it was the only way to keep step with the trend of prices.

DOLLS HIDE LIQUOR SOLD IN PORTLAND

Portland, Me., June 25.—Liquor was brought to Portland Tuesday in small bottles concealed inside two large dolls, carried by a couple in such a way as to appear like sleeping infants. There was every indication that one of the two persons having them and dressed like a woman was a man. Soon after their arrival some of the liquor was sold. One sale was made in the Public Library Building, the purchaser and vendor attempting in plain sight to sell the liquor while the transaction took place. The liquor was also drunk there and the bottle thrown on the lawn in front of the building.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The War Gardens Habit

(From the Chicago Evening Post)

We are glad to see that the war garden habit is sticking.

We know a vacant lot that was a weedy wilderness before we went to war. In the spring of 1918 it was plowed and planted. From neighboring houses and flat buildings men and women came in the cooler hours of the day and hoed and raked. Evidently, they found profit in their labor—if not in the harvest then in the health that came through exercise and contact with the air and soil.

Evidently, we say, because, although the war is ended and the cry for cultivation and conservation less insistent, and everybody a little slacker in seeking opportunities for added toil, the lot has been plowed and planted again, and its small plots are tended with undiminished enthusiasm. Indeed, they took better this year than last—experience has made better gardeners.

There was a short-cut path across this particular lot. It vanished after we went to war—obliterated by the gardens, whose regimented vegetables commanded the respect of the passers-by, even of the small boys, and made them walk around. But the short-cut is back again. It is the old indication that the emergency is over. It has not regained its former straightness. It makes a detour here and there to avoid a bed of nice young onions or patches whose red shoulders peep out above the soil. It is a pleasant path when it cut directly between piles of rubbish and clumps of weeds.

We hope this habit of making the waste places blossom, if not "as the rose," at least as the potato and the tomato, will never be abandoned. Surely, there is every encouragement to continue it now that we can "beat our own swords into plowshares."

Value of High-Paid Labor

(From the Worcester Telegram)

The Massachusetts Senate has voted that compulsory voting is not needed in this Commonwealth to elect a competent Senate. The senators could never have arrived at that solemn conclusion on $1000 a session.

One of Our Big Problems

(From the Springfield Evening News)

The Massachusetts Bureau of Immigration is authorized for the statement that one-third of our population is foreign-born, and comes mainly from non-English speaking countries. There are 361,351 persons ten years of age and over who are unable to read and write English, and there are more than 300,000 alien males over 21 that have not been naturalized. A high percentage of these are illiterate even in their native tongues. Taking the State as a whole the percentage of illiteracy is 11.6. Right here in Burlington we have 7653 persons who cannot read and write English. Holyoke has 7670, and Chicopee 6851.

Here is a real problem in Americanization, a condition that must be corrected if this Commonwealth is to maintain her proud position in the sisterhood of States. In education lies the safety of our institutions, the continued success of popular government.

General Wood's Wise Words

(From the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph)

"Stick mentally" is Major General Leonard Wood's diagnosis of the case of many soldiers returned from abroad who have been unable as yet to secure suitable employment. In asserting that among such men the busy manufacturers of discontent would find purposes, General Wood merely expresses a bit of practical psychology. The idle man whatever his training or natural strength of character, courts danger. To keep busy is the prime prescription for mental and moral as well as for physical health. Stagnation means deterioration. Work is the salvation of the human race. Therefore the utmost heed should be paid to General Wood's plea for continued governmental support of the Federal and other employment agencies designed to aid discharged soldiers.

In his opinion these bureaus will find it necessary to operate until next October at least and will require a continuance of liberal appropriations from Congress. "Here in Chicago," he says, "we found the best antidote for the soldier's state of mind created by idleness was unemployment; and acting upon the theory that mischief is always found for idle hands to do, we immediately, through our bureau for soldiers, sailors and marines, secured profitable employment for as many as possible, with the result that the situation is much healthier today. We cannot lay too much stress on our responsibility in this matter. The soldier naturally feels that his first help in finding a job should come from the Government to which he so cheerfully submitted during the war, and the nation must continue to offer that assistance." The solution of the unemployment problem would be a sad blow to the radical agitators.

Up Against a Wall

(People and Patriot)

The reaction from the removal of Adjutant General Howard would seem to be unfavorable to the Governor. The fact that he so recently reappointed the General and signed a bill increasing his salary, is commented upon as being inconsistent with his present claim that the General is incompetent. The fact that he appointed his brother to the office of Fish and Game Commissioner—a good place for some soldier—is referred to as indicating that the desire to make way for the soldier could not have weighed as heavily with him in the matter of the removal of General Howard as he claims.

There seems to be a feeling more or less general that the close association of the Governor with the Editor of the Union and with Major Abbott in the matter of the Adjutant's removal, together with their close association in the organization of The American Legion, and the diversion of the funds of the State to finance the Legion, has a political meaning which should be discouraged as injurious to the Legion and detrimental to the soldier and the public service. The soldiers themselves do not seem to take kindly to the idea of recognizing recognition under such circumstances and from such motives and involving, as it would the sacrifice of such an efficient public servant and one with whom they have been in such close military fellowship. Altogether the trend of opinion seems to be against the Governor in this matter.

Regardless of the personal and general considerations involved, the point is made that the removal was without authority of law. If this is so, then of course the removal is without effect and the Adjutant would seem to have nothing to do but sit tight on the strength of his commission and possession and it would seem to be up to the Governor to take steps to establish that he has proceeded according to law and that the Adjutant has been duly removed. If the Governor finds himself up against this wall, he might confound his enemies by saying that he had attempted to do some thing for the soldier and had been thwarted by them and so leave the matter. Who would have the best of the situation in that event time would determine. Whatever the outcome, the sensible is no an affair of the Democratic Party, so we can await the result with serenity.

The above from the paper which has given the chief front page etc., with so much praise that for a time things looked suspicious. Well, just keep cool.

An Awful Fix

(From the New York Evening Post)

A terrible discovery has been made. Six of the States have been violating the Constitution says, and has always said, that members of Legislatures, as well as congressmen, "shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution." Yet in Arizona, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Texas, Vermont and Washington no such oath or affirmation is required. The implications of this omission are staggering. Were the legislatures of these six states competent to ratify the Prohibition Amendment? Expect anti-prohibition sentiment is said to be united in the negative. Were they competent to do anything? Have they ever been competent to do anything? Can the citizens of the six States collect the taxes they have paid all their lives, upon the ground that such taxes were levied by an illegal body? What of laws passed by the votes of United States senators who were elected by the legislatures of these six States? Any and with a little imagination can see the country in an awful fix. "It is said in Washington that no less a legal luminary than Elihu Root may be asked for an opinion." And yet people go right on merrily and dying and saving daylight with the utmost nonchalance.

KITTERY ROBBERY CASE HAS HEARING

Barl William Russell, who gave his age as nineteen, and his home as the Atlantic Heights, Portsmouth, was arraigned in the Kittery court this morning at ten o'clock and pleaded guilty to larceny.

Russell is the young man who was arrested Tuesday evening at his home by Assistant Marshal Ducker of Portsmouth and Deputy Sheriff Boardman of Kittery, on the complaint of Roland W. Olmstead of Kittery, who lost two suits of clothes, and some other articles from Gray Lodge in Kittery, where he is residing. Olmstead is now employed at the Atlantic Corporation.

The clothes were recovered in a suit case under the bed of Russell's mother.

It appears that Russell took the clothes from the house last Saturday forenoon, making an easy access to the house by a window.

He was represented in court by attorney Hon. Aaron B. Cole of Kittery. It appeared to be the boy's first offense; and although he had not told the truth at first to the officers, a plea was made to give the boy as much opportunity to make good as possible. Judge Shaw imposed a fine of $100 and costs and fixed a sentence of four months in Alfred jail, the mittimus to issue upon the call of the officers in either Portsmouth or Kittery, without other conditions.

The boy's father is employed at the Atlantic Corporation, and the boy himself has been employed there at good wages, from $17 to $20 a week. The boy stated he entered the house to steal a pistol which he knew Olmstead owned.

Judge Shaw gave the young man considerable of an examination to see if he might have had any connection with some of the other breaks in that town recently.

GEN. WOOD IN BOSTON ON WAY TO CAPE COD

Major Gen. Leonard Wood spent Tuesday morning in Boston at the town residence of the late George von L. Meyer on Mt. Vernon street, where he saw several personal friends. Gen. Wood was on his way to visit his mother's old home, Newcastle, Cape Cod, where he is now the guest of George Gardner, whose summer home is near the ancestral home of the General. This morning the General will return to Boston and start for Chicago, his present headquarters.

Gen. Wood declined to talk politics and will not discuss the fact that he is being honored for the Republican Presidential nomination. He is now on a week's leave of absence and has been delivering addresses at several colleges. He came to Boston Monday evening on the same train with Gen. Edwards, who was returning from Trinity College, which conferred upon him an honorary degree. The two distinguished soldiers, who are old friends, had a friendly chat on their way to Boston.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Required Today

One engineer for the yard ferry boat, two patternmakers, four general helpers and two electricians for industrial department were required through the labor employment office today.

21 Are Going Out

Twenty or more men will be sent from the Southern to Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Puget Sound, Pittsburgh and St. Louis on Thursday where they will be discharged at their own request and expiration of enlistment. Most of the number are of the reserve corps.

Transferred to Local Yard

Miss Florence M. Sheehan, Chief Yeoman (P) formerly on duty at the Charlestown navy yard, has been transferred to the Portsmouth yard with duty in the office for paymaster of auxiliaries.

Thought Treaty Signed

The navy yard fire alarm whistle did more than its share of blowing about 11 o'clock this forenoon when a monthly trial alarm was sounded from box 22 owing to the failure of the valve to work properly. Several people on the Portsmouth side of the river at once decided that the peace treaty had been signed and that the whistle was announcing the same.

Inspection Board Coming

The official board of inspection and survey will arrive here shortly for inspection of the U. S. S. Dolphin and the Rappahannock. The last named ship has been viewed by such a board several months ago and the second inspection is something in the nature of a puzzle.

Will Sell to Employees

By an order of the department the employees of the yard will shortly be allowed to make a purchase of men's heavy underwear, cloth, bleached and books which is now on hand at the unbleached cotton cloth and rubber supply department where the goods were stored for war needs. There ought to be a few bargains.

Exams to Washington.

The reports of the examination of 33 apprentices will be forwarded to Washington and the advance made in the several trades and the rating may not be known for several days.

Coal is Due Here Sometime

Four thousand tons of coal is due at the local yard in shipments from the south but none of the same has yet started north.

Got a Good Back Stop

The addition of Lieut. Fogg of the Public Works Department to the navy yard baseball team will mean much to the nine as he is a fast man in the position of catcher.

Yeomen (F) Took No Chances.

A mouse at any age or size, is a nuisance to a woman and the finding of a nest of small rodents in the desk of Lieut. Hoag in the Naval District Headquarters in Boston on Tuesday upset the nerves of several yeomen (F) who made a hasty retreat an attack protected positions on chairs, desks, and other places. The sharp shrieks caused much excitement and when the janitor was called to the defense lines he found only three that were so small that it was hard to determine just what they were. The mice never moved until the janitor gathered them up in a basket for cremation without formal ceremony. In about 10 minutes things were normal, but there were still a few who shuddered on thinking what a narrow escape they had.

NORTHERN SERBIA NOW SUPPLIED

Belgrade, Serbia, June 24.—Northern Serbia which for several months after the war was virtually isolated from contact with Allied sources of supply is now receiving a steady stream of goods of all kinds. These goods are brought in by way of Miume as there is no through rail connection north from Saloniki across Serbia owing to the fact that the main north-south railroad in Serbia is still being repaired and hundreds of bridges are lying smashed beyond repair in the beds of the streams they once spanned. At present it requires, with good luck, from ten to fifteen days to cross Serbia from Saloniki to Belgrade by motor truck and rail.

The American Army Food Mission and the American Red Cross are daily sending truckloads of food, clothing and medical supplies into Northern Serbia for Belgrade. The American Red Cross in Northern Serbia has established stations at Curpin, Kragujevac, Palanka, Pozharevac, Stabitz, Negotin, Petrovatz, Obrenovatz, and Semendria, from which centers hundreds of smaller towns are served. At all these points American army doctors, American army nurses and former dough chauffeurs and motor transport men are busy.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Former Patient Speaks.

Editor—As a former patient in the Portsmouth hospital in the summer of 1918, I heartily agree with the item published in your paper of Tuesday evening, protesting against the noise and disturbance made by automobiles in passing through Junkins avenue. I was awakened night after night by the noise of autos and have since learned that using an open cut-out is of no value in operating a machine in this section and only adds discomfort to the hospital sick. A remedy should be applied to stop this noise and also the shouting of auto parties on their way in and out of this city.

One Who Has Suffered.

FOCH REFUSES INTERVIEW

Marshal, After Hearing News of German Decision to Sign, Cancels Appointment With Correspondents
 Coblenz, June 24 (Associated Press)—Marshal Foch, the Allied commander-in-chief, heard the news of the vote passed by the German National Assembly on Sunday in favor of accepting the peace terms at his advanced headquarters at Kreuznach, in the French area of occupation. The marshal visited Mayence on Sunday and conferred with his generals regarding final plans for the march into Germany.

The generalissimo returned to Kreuznach to keep an appointment with several American newspaper correspondents with whom he was to discuss the proposed activities of the Allied Armies in the event the Germans would not accept. The marshal got to the Weimar report from Paris by telephone at seven o'clock Sunday night. He cancelled his appointment with the correspondents and did not give out a statement.

Some Vienna theatres do without ushers by mounting electric lights in such positions that they illuminate the numbers on seats as long as the latter are unoccupied.

TROBER GETS STATE PRISON SENTENCE

Exeter, June 25.—Philip Trober of Lewiston, Me., 31 years of age was sentenced to not less than two years or more than three at hard labor in the state prison at Concord and a fine of $1,000 by Judge W. H. Sawyer yesterday morning in Superior court.

Trober was found guilty last week by a jury of killing Mrs. Vhanna B. Bred 70 years of age, at Hampton Falls on Aug. 12, 1918, by hitting her with his automobile while driving over the highway. It was alleged that he was intoxicated and driving at a high rate of speed.

LETTER OF THANKS FROM SERVICE CLUB

Portsmouth, June 23, 1919.
 Rev. Alfred Gooding, Court St.
 My Dear Mr. Gooding:—The executive committee of the Service Club wish to express to you their sense of gratitude for the great help you gave them during the winter by loaning the enlisted men the free use of the Unitarian Sunday school room.

They also wish to thank you for your generous response to every suggestion for the recreation of the enlisted men, and for your constant and unfailing interest in the men's welfare.

The caterer, with its home cooking, good music, and pleasant companionship, have, according to many letters from officers received by the committee, done much to keep up the morale of the enlisted men while in Portsmouth.

Numerous letters received from enlisted men overseas have attested to their enjoyment and gratitude for the work done through your kindness at the Service Club.

Sincerely yours,
 FRANCES M. BROOKS,
 For the Executive Committee.

ODD ITEMS FROM EVERYWHERE

An investigation by the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that the cost of a bushel of wheat on the 390 Kansas farms studied would have been approximately $2 had an average yield been obtained in 1918.

Summer visitors will be able to get a little bit of White by air. A passenger service of flying boats will ply between Southampton, Hyde, Shanklin and Ventnor, and from these resorts it will be possible to fly to Bournemouth and Weymouth.

An Court of Maryland, N. D., while plowing on his farm two years ago lost a wallet which contained $10. Later he enlisted and went overseas and fought in France. Now he is back in Maryland, and the other day as he was watching Lee Gilmore play the same field, the lost wallet was turned over. The bills were virtually destroyed, but enough remains of them so that they may be changed for new money.

IN GERMAN PORT?

Message From Seaman Ramsey Says He is Safe in America—Navy Department Thinks Report a Hoax

Columbia, S. C., June 25.—Another of the many "clues" to the lost Collier Cyclops turned up here today when the mother of Otis Ramsey, a seaman on the ship, received a telegram from New York saying he was "safe in this country again," and that the missing vessel was in a German port.

The Navy records show that Otis Ramsey of Columbia was a seaman on the Cyclops and he is listed as "lost at sea." The Navy, however, knows nothing that would clear the mystery.

Officials think the message probably is a hoax, but are carefully investigating.

SCHOOL FOR

CITIZENSHIP

To Teach Women Duties to Be Taken On.

The women of the state are to be given a chance to learn the meaning and duties of citizenship and study the problems of the day. A four-day school is to be held at New Hampshire College, Durham, from July 8th to the 12th for prospective women voters.

In speaking of the school Pres. H. D. Helzel says:

"It is particularly fitting that New Hampshire College, a public educational institution, should offer its facilities for the promotion of educational work, designed to fit the citizens of our commonwealth for well-directed participation in public affairs. It will be a distinct pleasure to entertain those who have interest in this forward looking movement."

The attractive prospectus which has just been issued contains the following: "In view of the rapidly approaching time when New Hampshire women in common with all the women of America, will be admitted to full citizenship, this school is planned in the hope that women from all sections of the state will come together for a short intensive period during which the duties, responsibilities and privileges of citizenship may be studied seriously to the end that their entrance into political life may not simply increase the number of votes but add to the body politic a strong, constructive, intelligent asset."

Women have honestly disagreed upon the advisability of granting suffrage to their sex, but all New Hampshire women will unite in a desire to serve state and nation in the best possible manner, and the women whose names stand as patronesses of this school have been asked to do so regardless of former affiliations, but simply in recognition of their valuable contributions to the well being of our beloved state, and in the belief that the best women in New Hampshire, regardless of party, will work together for the highest standard of citizenship in the state.

The committee of management and the patronesses are as follows:

The Committee—Miss Martha Kimball, Mrs. Mary L. Wood, Mrs. Helen Rand Thayer, Portsmouth; Mrs. Frank Knox, Mrs. Clinton Cheney, Manchester; Mrs. James W. Hendick, Miss Harriet L. Huntress, Mrs. Charles F. Bancroft, Concord; Dr. Inez Ford Nason, Dover; Mrs. Charles Summers, Durham; Mrs. Ylva Chase Webb, Lisbon.

Sawyer, Durham; Mrs. George Shedd, North Conway; Mrs. Leslie Snow, Rochester; Mrs. Frank S. Streeter, Concord; Mrs. Josephine Sweet, Rochester; Mrs. A. B. Whittemore, Dover.

Presidents of all women's organizations in the state have been asked to act as patronesses.

The Faculty and Associates of the School are:

Citizenship—Mrs. Nancy M. Schoonmaker, Connecticut; Mrs. Ella Meredith, Colorado; Mrs. Helen Rand Thayer, Portsmouth; Miss Edna Wright, New York; Dr. Ralph D. Helzel, Pres. N. H. College; Major Robert Murchie, Concord; Prof. D. C. Babcock, N. H. College; Mr. John McNamee, Manchester; Mr. Charles W. Tolly, Temple.

All who wish to attend the school are asked to write to the office of the President, New Hampshire College, so that rooms may be reserved. Smith Hall will be used to house the guests and the rate of board and room will be $2.50 a day. Anyone desiring further information may communicate with a member of the Committee of management or directly with the college.

TO WRESTLE ON LAWN AT KITTERY POINT

A wrestling match which is attracting considerable attention among the navy yard workmen and especially those of the Champernowne Hotel at Kittery Point, will be held on Thursday on the lawn in front of the hotel when Oscar Samson one of the best light heavyweights in the country will wrestle H. O. Laschowsky another wrestler who has met some of the best men in the country.

Samson who is employed at the yard challenged Dryden at the last match here and he wrestled Dryden here some years ago and he is certainly a good man. Both men are at the hotel and there has been so much argument as to who is the better man the match was arranged. It will be somewhat of a novelty in sport here and it should be fast.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Elixir-Phosphate to Put on Flesh, Healthy Blood and To Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the best of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of any hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles, with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions about this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1915, says: "That the amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that the deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Elixir-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of the phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphate content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in the body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon rises to its normal level of activity, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAPTION:—While Elixir-Phosphate is indispensable for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

MACHINE GUN QUELLS "TOM- MIES" MUTINY

London, June 23—The mutinous conduct of troops at Sutton Camp, Somers, which has been growing for the past 10 days, culminated today in the formation of a committee by the men and their refusal to salute or to obey orders. This morning two battalions of troops were sent to the camp in light fighting trim and with a machine gun. The troops arrested four hundred men, among them the ring-leaders, and despatched 1800 other men to camps at Dover and Canterbury. The main grievance of the men was that they were being ordered to France.

CELEBRATING GERMANY'S BACK DOWN

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Monday, June 23.—Celebrations over the German decision to sign the treaty of peace without reservations were so where more enthusiastic than at Lille, and other cities and towns in the territory wrested from the Germans. Newspapers printed special editions, cheering crowds paraded the streets, and the houses were decked with allied flags. In Paris the city hall was brilliantly lighted and in the Square before it, and in other open places improvised jazz bands appeared and informal balls began only to be stopped by unsympathetic police, who declared that dancing was not authorized except on July 14th. High carnival reigned in the boulevards far into the night, and scenes enacted at the time of the Armistice were repeated and intensified. Throngs swayed back and forth shouting, singing, and waving flags. The orchestras played tirelessly urged on by the revelers. Women in mourning were observed here and there in the noisy crowds weeping silently. It was not long after the German reply had been received and opened by the Supreme Council that guns began to boom from the forts around Paris, and reloading crowds began to stream through the streets, having been told by the sound of cannon that the Germans had accepted the allied terms. Allied flags were hung out as if by magic from windows. Automobiles loaded with cheering doughboys and excited police dashed through the thoroughfares and cheering animated throngs gave evidence of the joy with which the Parisians welcomed the end of the long agony and tension. The celebration assumed a more tumultuous character and by eight o'clock in the evening bands of students had taken possession of the German trophy cannon and were dragging them in a procession through the city.

CAR STRIKE DECLARED OFF

(By Associated Press)

Boston, June 23.—The strike of about 3500 car men, which has tied up the lines about Boston on the old Day system, was officially declared off tonight and beginning tomorrow the cars will be run on their regular schedule.

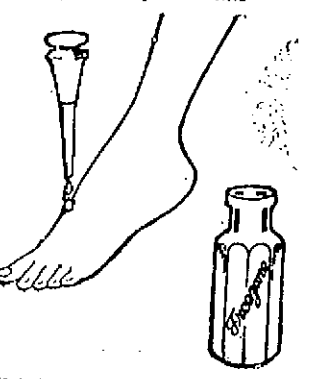

This action was taken at the conference of the committee of the ten locals. The vote of the locals taken was polled and it was three to one in favor of returning to work.

It was not announced how many of the local voted in favor of returning to work. The bare announcement of the calling off of the strike was made by the conference committee, but it is on that the vote was overwhelming.

In favor of returning to work. The strike board with John R. Reardon of the International Council who remained here to take away the character of those locals who did not return to work tomorrow, held a meeting and a meeting has been arranged for tomorrow with the railroad officials when the grievances of the men will be heard such as the using of the hand register on the open cars etc.

TO LIFT GERMAN BLOCKADE

(By Associated Press)

Paris, June 23.—The Supreme Blockade Council met today to decide on the date when the blockade of Germany should be lifted. One element, it is understood, favors the date when the treaty is ratified, but it is believed the Council will probably decide on lifting the blockade with the signing of the treaty.

ITALIAN AND GREEKS LEAVE IN LARGE NUMBERS

More Than 3000 Applied For Passports at New York Monday.

New York, June 23.—New records are being made daily in the number of aliens seeking passports here to return to their native countries. More than three thousand, mostly Italians and Greeks, applied Monday. Thousands more in line last night when the Passport Bureau office was closed.

HARD TO FIND HUNS TO SIGN DOCUMENT

Wilmers, June 23.—The plenipotentiaries who will sign the peace treaty for Germany have not yet been chosen. They may however, be named today.

It still is proving difficult to find men who are willing to sign a document which is to be such a momentous historical record.

HINDENBURG AT HANOVER

Hanover, June 23.—Frau Hindenburg arrived in Hanover recently and is making her home in the house donated by the people to Field Marshal Hindenburg. Marshal Hindenburg, who was reported several weeks ago to have made arrangements to retire from the command of German troops on the eastern front, is expected in Hanover in the near future.

BISHOP WITH
$50,000 SALARY
NOT ENOUGH

London, June 24.—The Bishop of London, Dr. Ingham, with a salary of $50,000, finds that he cannot keep up both of the residences which go with his position, and proposes to rent or sell his town house. The Bishop's town house is situated in St. James' Square, about the most aristocratic area of London. It was once the home of the Duke of Warwick and the church bought it some two centuries ago.

The other residence is Fulham Palace, which is across the Thames from the suburb of Putney, where the Oxford-Cambridge boat races start.

The Bishop explained to a diocesan conference that $32,500 of his income went for income tax, super-tax, municipal taxes and insurance. That left him only $17,500 to maintain these two establishments, and to keep a motor, and the minimum of ten servants absolutely needed for Fulham Palace alone.

"You must see," he said "it cannot be done. You ask your wives, 'Pessimists have told me I would not be able even to keep Fulham Palace going, but I intend to make a great effort before parting with a historic possession of the church for 130 years.'"

The Bishop is in the same boat with numerous others of the clergy. They are appointed to a position with a certain salary, "and living." The "living" is a residence, often larger than they can maintain on the salary, so that it constitutes a liability rather than an asset. Several important church officials have closed their houses during the war, and lived in less expensive quarters.

$240.00 FOR MAN'S SUIT AT NISH

Nish, Serbia, June 24.—Upon their arrival here with food, clothing and medicine the Army Food Mission and the American Red Cross found the following prices prevailing: for a man's suit of clothes of cheapest quality, $210; a pair of trousers, $50; a pair of shoes, $30; one yard of cotton cloth $12; a spoon of cotton thread $5 to $12; a small piece of soap $5; one pound of coffee $15.

At that a loaf of bread cost $1, one pound of sugar $5; a quart of kerosene $5; a pair of women's shoes $5; men's shoes $7.50 a pair, underwear of poor quality, $2.50 a suit, thread $2 for a spoon.

In both the Nish and Pirot districts the Bulgarians had carried off clothing, bedding and cloth of all sorts. Red Cross representatives found hundreds of men, women and children in some huts wearing nothing but burlap sackling.

ASLEEP AT THE WHEEL

A local autoist had an experience on Sunday evening that he will not soon forget. He was bounding along at a thirty mile clip over the fine stretch of road at the Hampton marshes, when he fell asleep and his machine dashed through the fence. He lost all the upper part of his big machine and was somewhat bruised. It took a derrick to lift his machine out of the mire. For a thriller his experience takes the lead.

CHURCH PARTY

Court Street Society Entertains
Sunday School.

The Sunday School of the Court Street Christian Society held a church party Tuesday afternoon in the vestry, the different grades being entertained at different hours. The vestry had trimmings of pink and white crepe paper streamers arranged from the center to the sides.

From 2 to 4 the Cradle Roll of the Sunday School was entertained and the mothers were also special guests. There were 20 little ones present and a long table was arranged with blocks to interest the little folks, who enjoyed playing in this manner. Miss Grace Hatch, the district nurse, who was expected to be present and give a talk was unable to come. The children, attired in white and wearing ribbons or sashes made a pretty picture. They were served fancy wafers and milk, the latter being passed in little fancy glasses and each child given one to carry home.

From four to six o'clock the primary and junior departments of the Sunday school were entertained, games being enjoyed and fancy wafers and ice cream cones served.

The intermediate and senior departments were guests from seven to nine, the time being passed informally with games. Fancy wafers and fruit punch were served.

The vestry was cool and inviting and the occasion most pleasant to all of the participants. Mrs. May C. Caswell, wife of the pastor, and superintendent of the Sunday school, was in charge of the affair. Both Mr. and Mrs. Caswell gave all a hearty welcome and were untiring in their efforts to have the gathering successful and it certainly was a credit to their efforts.

WHY-ENVY? your neighbours HOME

Yes. Why? You can have one just as nice, quite as well furnished and in every way as comfortable. You know, we people here in Portsmouth have the right ideas about home, anyway. We consider it an investment worth as much as business property.

Some people, if worth fifty thousand dollars, will live in a flat, while others who really love a home, come into say twenty thousand dollars, will immediately soak half of it right down into a home.

We feel that we are right when we insist on your buying good furniture. You can own that home if you go about it right. Throw out your chest, elevate your chin—look the world in the face, save some of the money you are making, and when you get the house, come to 64 Vaughan Street and we'll see that the proper furniture is not lacking, and will arrange convenient terms for you to pay.

By the way, we have several house lots for sale in the best residential section of Portsmouth, which can be bought on terms if desired.
